

PRIVACY NOTICE

Overview

The Lambert Smith Hampton (LSH) privacy notice provides information on how LSH and any of its subsidiaries, branches or representative offices and any 3rd party providers collect, use, secure, transfer and share your information. LSH, and its affiliates, is a leading provider of commercial property agency, property management, auctions and consultancy services. It operates in over 30 locations with over 1400 employees within the UK and Ireland.

Lambert Smith Hampton takes data protection very seriously. The use of the internet pages of LSH and its subsidiaries/branches is not possible without the provision of some personal data; however, if a Data Subject wishes to use certain services via our website, processing of further personal data could become necessary. If the processing of personal data is necessary and there is no statutory basis for such processing, we will obtain consent from the Data Subject.

Personal Data processing shall always be in line with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and in accordance with the country-specific legislation applicable to LSH. By means of this Privacy Notice, we inform you why we collect and process personal data and Data Subjects rights relating to the collection and processing of Personal Data.

Definitions (Article 4 of the GDPR)

This Privacy Notice is based on the terms used by the European legislator for the adoption of the GDPR, but for ease of understanding, the following definitions apply:

Controller: the natural or legal person, public authority, agency or other body which, alone or jointly with others, determines the purposes and means of the processing of personal data, where the purposes and means of such processing are determined by Union Member State Law, the controller or the specific criteria for its nomination may be provided for by Union or Member State law.

Personal Data: any information relating to an identified or identifiable natural person (Data Subject).

Data Subject: any identified or identifiable natural person whose personal data is processed by the controller responsible for the processing. An identifiable natural person is one who can be identified directly, or indirectly, in particular by reference to an identifier such as name, identification number, location data, an online identifier or to one or more factors specific to the physical, physiological, genetic, mental, economic, cultural or social identity of that natural person.

Processor: a natural or legal person, public authority, agency or other body which processes personal data on behalf of the controller.

Third Party: a natural or legal person, public authority, agency or other body, other than the data subject, controller, processor and person who, under the direct authority of the controller or processor, are authorised to process personal data.

Cookies

The internet pages of LSH and its subsidiaries/branches use cookies. Cookies are text files that are stored in a computer system via an internet browser. Many cookies contain a 'Cookie ID', which is a unique identifier of the cookie consisting of a character string through which internet pages and servers can be assigned to the specific internet browser in which the cookie was stored. This allows visited internet sites and servers to differentiate the individual browser of the data subject from the internet browsers that contain other cookies. A specific internet browser can be recognised and identified using the unique cookie ID. Cookies allow us to recognise our website users, the purpose of this recognition is to make it easier for users to utilise our website. Set cookies may be deleted at any time via an internet browser or other software programs. If a data subject deactivates the cookie setting in the internet browser used, this may result in some functions of our website being unusable. -------------------------------	--------------------------	--------------------------------

- Compiling and communicating promotional and marketing information about products and services that LSH Group, affiliates and other organisations that we have affiliations with have and that may be of interest to you.
- Conducting market research
- Facilitating our internal business operations, including the fulfilment of any legal requirements.

Security of Processing Personal Information (Article 32 of the GDPR)

The security of your personal information is very important and LSH is committed to protecting the information we collect. We maintain administrative, technical and physical safeguards designed to protect the personal information you provide, or we collect, against accidental, unlawful or unauthorised destruction, loss, alteration, access, disclosure or use. We use SSL encryption on our websites from which we transfer certain personal information.

Access to personal data is restricted only to those who have a legitimate business need and data processed by third parties is only done so under strict instruction from LSH, as per the terms of their contract.

Procedures are in place to ensure breaches, or suspected breaches, are dealt with in a timely and secure manner with applicable notification applied within the required timeframes set out in accordance with the DPA 2018 and the GDPR.

Retention Period

LSH's criteria for storing personal data is in accordance with the statutory retention period within the UK and in line with LSH's Data Retention and Destruction Policy, unless otherwise required or authorised by applicable law. We take measures to securely destroy or permanently de-identify personal information if required by law, or if the personal information is no longer required for the purpose for which we collected it. LSH will generally keep personal information for 7 years after the last contact with you; however, LSH reserves the right to keep information for longer if it is required to do so in relation to legal proceedings or the fulfilment of a contract.

Contractual Obligation of the Data Subject/Possible Consequences of Failure to Provide Such Data

The Data Subject has a contractual obligation to provide personal data to LSH where the provision of personal data is required by law (e.g. tax regulations, Anti-Money Laundering etc.), or can also result from contractual provisions i.e. information on the contractual partner. Sometimes it may be necessary to conclude a contract that the data subject provides us with personal data, which must subsequently be processed by us. The Data Subject is, for example, obliged to provide us with personal data when LSH signs a contract with the Data Subject. The non-provision of the personal data would have the consequence that the contract with the data subject could not be concluded.

Data Protection for Employment & Recruitment

LSH shall collect and process the personal data of applicants for the purpose of the processing of the application procedure. The processing may also be carried out electronically. This is the case, in particular, if an applicant submits corresponding application documents by email or via web application to LSH. If LSH concludes an employment contract with an applicant, the submitted data will be stored for the purpose of processing the employment relationship in compliance with legal requirements. If no employment contract is concluded with the applicant by we may securely destroy/erase the applicants' data.

General

You may not transfer any of your rights under this Privacy Notice to any other person. We may transfer our rights under this Privacy Notice where we reasonably believe your rights will not be affected.

If any court or competent authority finds that any provision of this Privacy Notice (or part of any provision) is invalid, illegal or unenforceable, that provision or part-provision will, to the extent required, be deemed to be deleted and the validity and enforceability of the other provisions of this Privacy Notice will not be affected.

Unless otherwise agreed, no delay, act or omission by a party in exercising any right or remedy will be deemed a waiver of that, or any other right or remedy.

This Privacy Notice will be governed by and interpreted according to the law of England and Wales. All disputes arising under the notice will be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the England and Welsh courts.

Complaints and Feedback

If we fall short of your expectations in processing your personal information or you wish to make a complaint about our privacy practices or a breach of your personal information, applicable privacy laws/principles, or have a concern about LSH privacy practices, would like access and/or update information or preferences you provided to us, please click here Alternatively, you may also e-mail: GroupDPO@lsh.co.uk

To assist us in responding to your request, please give full details of the issue. We attempt to review and respond to all complaints within a reasonable time.

If we cannot for lawful reasons complete your request we will explain this to you to the extent that we lawfully can.

Under Article 77 of the GDPR, you also have the right to lodge a complaint with a Supervisory Authority, if you feel we have, or are, processing your personal data in a way in which infringes the Regulation (GDPR).

Updating this Privacy Notice

We will update this Privacy Notice from time to time, so we suggest that you review it at regular intervals. Where we undergo substantial changes to our privacy statement we will endeavour to inform you directly about these changes.
